The Value Of Constructive Engagement: The political and legislative landscape for passenger rail in 2020

Jim Mathews | President & CEO
Rail Passengers Association
Washington, DC
Constructive Engagement: Policy Partnerships Are Leading To Real Gains

- Rail Passengers’ consistent message: “Trains deliver value to served communities six, seven or more times the dollars invested in the service”
  - The “profit” goes to the communities and the U.S., not necessarily to Amtrak
  - The “profit” is value for the Nation, and Congress is willing to invest in value
  - Amtrak should not be afraid to be bold and to advance a vision for helping rural communities and urban centers create value

- Value vs. Profit is an important idea to advance to set the stage for reauthorization of the five-year Surface Transportation bill (the “FAST Act”)

- Also important as bipartisan consensus emerges on the need for a large infrastructure bill
Constructive Engagement: Policy Partnerships Are Leading To Real Gains

- Rail Passengers Association is making the most aggressive credible case for return on taxpayers’ equity...and Congress is listening
  - Rail Passengers’ study on Southwest Chief: $180m annual benefit to Kan., Colo., N. Mex.
  - Rail Passengers’ study on ‘Baby Builder’ between CHI and MSP: $47m+ annual benefit
  - Rail Passengers’ study on Empire Builder end-to-end: $327m annual benefit
  - Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama took a huge step last month towards launching new Mobile-New Orleans service that will return least $170.7 million to the local economies every year for a roughly $5 million - $7 million annual operating investment

- Working very closely with many Congressional offices to advance the interests of rail passengers and to strengthen support for creating an Amtrak that can grow new service without sacrificing long-distance trains
Constructive Engagement: Policy Partnerships Are Leading To Real Gains

Rail Passengers Association members and supporters need to do THESE THREE THINGS:

1. Engage With Your Rep To Securing Near-Term Funding for Amtrak + Passenger Rail
   - Ask your Representative to sign-on to the FY2021 House Appropriations Transportation Subcommittee “Dear Colleague” letter led by Rep. Seth Moulton (D-Mass.), which calls for full funding of Amtrak and passenger rail grant programs
   - Reach out to your Representative and Senators to identify any key passenger rail or transit projects which would benefit from Amtrak or rail grant funding
   - Ask your Representative and Senators to support both the funding levels and the policy proposals in Amtrak’s 2021 Legislative Report & Grant request
   - Ask your Representatives and Senators to REJECT the Administration’s proposed Amtrak cuts in its 2021 budget proposal

2. Share Our Briefing Documents
   - Find these at RailPassengers.org/RailNation2020

3. Schedule a Meeting for RailNation:DC 2020
   - There are only FOUR WEEKS until our Passenger Rail Day on the Hill, so the time to begin scheduling is NOW!
   - You can schedule these meetings in D.C. or in your state; in-person or as a phone call.

WASHINGTON—Seeking to attract millions more passengers, Amtrak is preparing an overhaul of its national network targeting increased service in the South and West—at the expense of long-haul routes beloved by train buffs and their allies in Congress.

The goal is to revamp the way Amtrak runs trains on the aging network of national routes it already maintains, with more frequent service between pairs of cities, such as Atlanta and Charlotte, N.C., or Cleveland and Cincinnati. Running more trains over shorter distances putting its money where its mouth is, appropriating near-record dollars for a second year to advance Amtrak service around the country.

National Network Trains And Corridor Growth Can Co-exist

Against that backdrop, it’s clear that Amtrak need not be timid in asking Congress to support growth and new services. There is political and fiscal appetite to do more, and that’s the plan Amtrak should submit. We do not need to choose, especially when the choice offered is a false one. That’s the message I’ve delivered consistently to Amtrak over the past year, and it’s one you can help amplify by getting in touch with your congressional representative or Senator. COMPLACENCY IS NOT AN OPTION!
The outlook for the next few months...and what your game-plan should be
THE NEXT FIVE YEARS
The ‘FAST’ Act And What Comes Next: The Clock Is Ticking!

Window for legislative action is short due to election, with a long to-do list for Congress:

- Feb. 28 – Appropriations Deadlines for Member Offices
- March 3 - Super Tuesday
- March – House T&I Rail Title Hearing
- July 13 + Aug. 24 – Party Conventions
- Sept. 30 – FAST Act + FY2020 Budget Act expires
- Oct. 13 – Election recess begins

Two “Must-Pass” bills by October 1

- FY21 budget or Continuing Resolution (CR) – to avoid a government shutdown
- Replacement or short-term extension of Surface Transportation authorization – to avoid losing gas-tax revenue for highways and transit

If the past predicts the future…:

- Congress will close shop by June to focus on elections
- Expect short-term extensions
The ‘FAST’ Act And What Comes Next: Re-Authorization Sets Long-Term Policy

• There is a good chance that this bill will not achieve final passage in 2020

• However, passenger advocates need to articulate a clear set of principles and policies for the rail and transit titles and be able to incorporate them into our messaging around the must-pass FY 2021 Appropriations bill

• Whatever drafts are produced by the House and Senate will heavily influence the final product
